What is every brides dream on their wedding day?

The dress?

The cake?

How about arriving in style at your wedding in a horse-drawn carriage?

This fairytale arrival is now possible through Ash Hayes Carriages, in Nailsea, Bristol. With their help, you can start your special day in a truly romantic style with the most elegant carriages, beautifully presented horses and smartly uniformed staff.

We, at the Western Counties Express, are very pleased to announce that Ash Hayes carriages has been awarded the Award of Excellence in the Transport Industry for 2007 by the Directors of our publication .

We spoke to John Strouts, the proprietor of Ash Hayes carriages, and he was very pleased that his business had been recognized in this way.

He said,

"This award has come out of the blue, so we are very surprised. However we are both proud and happy to receive it. It's good to know that our service is appreciated."

He added,

"It is a fitting tribute to the service we offer here, and this award will be displayed on our website, hopefully highlighting our award winning service." John makes every effort to make sure the day goes perfectly.

"I always make sure I'm turned out attractively and try to capture the magic and the thrill of riding an amazing carriage to the Church or Registry Office on the special day."
